

News from the creative worlds of Marianne de Pierres and Marianne Delacourt – The Burn Bright Special March 2010

Message from Marianne

Dear Friends,

As 2011 rolled in, I was at my desk penning book 2 of the Night Creatures trilogy, Angel Arias. What were you doing? Having fun, I hope? I was also counting my blessings. My family, friends and my work give me much joy, so I figure I'm a very lucky person!

Enjoy this month's newsletter. There's been a fair bit happening, but the highlights for me have been the release of Burn Bright and the announcement that there'll be two more books in the Tara Sharp series. More than enough to keep this little writer with her nose to the keyboard. Take care and hope to see you at some events this year.

Marianne x

Reviews

Acclaimed crime novelist Tara Moss gives her take on Sharp Turn, here, stating:

"Light, fast-paced, humorous, and yes, sharp, this Perth-based series is a lot of fun to read. As the cover declares, Delacourt has created a heroine Janet Evanovich fans will love – only this lanky lady is pure Aussie. You've not met anyone quite like her."

The Fringe Magazine also reviews Sharp Turn here.
